

WHO WE ARE?

MitraOne is a unique organization with a concept of servicing customers in their day to day requirement to make their life easy. The concept was founded by three young entrepreneurs with vast experience in people management, business development supply chain management. Along with lot of social concern the team started to explore the areas where the customers can be catered with a complete solution to end their day to day needs for small services like buying vegetables, groceries, milk, food products, cosmetics, baby care products, nursery products and the list goes on.

Getting these products at customer's door step may still be possible but getting electricians, plumbers, carpenters, construction workers, mechanics and various other skilled laborers is a "Herculean Task".

So understanding all this so called small or big requirements of customers MitraOne is designed to meet all small and big requirements of customers and keep them happy under one roof.
